Board Of Trustees.

The Board met promptly last evening and the business was pushed through with a speed which astonished even the members. The working machinery of the Trustees is now in good shape and entire harmony prevails. Nearly all of the business coming up has been previously looked into and much of the discussion which has previously prevailed at the meetings is avoided.

At the roll call all of the members answered to their names promptly which augured the dispatch which followed. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Finance Committee reported favorably and warrants were ordered to be drawn for the different amounts.

The Street Committee made the following report, which was adopted:

Gentlemen—Your committee on streets beg leave as follows: That the resolutions of intention be prepared for the following work: Fourth street between University avenue and Delaware street be sewered, where a sewer has not already been laid. That a crosswalk be constructed on the west side of Fulton street across Prince street also across Adeline street on the north side of Stewart, that a cement sidewalk be laid on both sides of Kittridge street between Shattuck avenue and Fulton street; to sewer Derby street street from the junction of Derby and Grove streets, westerly to sewer connections.

The request of Mrs. Robinson to delay work until next November was not granted.

Permission was granted D. F. Duggan to lay a 4 foot sidewalk on Third street 385 feet and on Camelia street 100 feet with crosswalks if necessary.

We recommend that the superintendent of streets notify all property owners in the Town of Berkeley to clear the sidewalks and gutters in front of their property of all vegetable growth.

J. W. GAGE.
G. G. DURRELL.
Committee.

The License Committee reported that the application of D. A. Landregran was correct, and it was approved, and an ordinance was passed granting him a license.

The Fire and Water Committee desired the matter of a hydrant on Durant avenue be held in abeyance, and it was so ordered.

On motion the Clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for printing the annual reports of all the town officers in newspaper form, and the bids to be opened at the next meeting of the Board.

Health officer Rowell submitted the following report.

Gentlemen—Complaints having origin in the Seventh Ward having reached me has prompted me to make an investigation of parts of said ward with the following result; Fifth street between Jones and Virginia streets is in a bad condition closets and cesspools are being emptied upon both town and private property and will render the locality liable to diseases of an infectious nature. I would recommend that Fifth street be sewered at once from Page street to Virginia street, so that condition of the locality may be improved before the summer months.

H. N. ROWELL.
Health Officer.

The report was received, and a resolution of intention was ordered to be prepared, in accordance with the Health officer's recommendation, for constructing a sewer on Fifth street.

At this time President Richards called the attention of the Board to a lecture to be given by Colonel Greenleaf this (Tuesday) evening, in Stiles' Hall, on Sanitary measures. Health Officer Rowell and Sanitary Inspector Thompson would be present and have something to say regarding Berkeley.

The new ordinance was called up, but after a short discussion it was concluded to lay the consideration of it over for two weeks.

The Special Committee appointed to look into the matter concerning the suit commenced by the Oakland Paving Company against the town, for grading and curbing work performed on Durant avenue, reported that the Paving Company had agreed to compromise the matter by throwing off all extra costs and take the original amount charged for the work, and wait until the town was in funds, or say next November for their money. The committee recommended the acceptance of this proposition and it was agreed to by the Board.

The next matter to come up was the election of a President of the Board for the coming year. Trustee Martin placed the name of Trustee Richards in nomination and all the rest of the members seconded it. On motion the nominations were closed, and the clerk was instructed to cast the ballots of all the members for Mr. Richards, which he did, and declared Trustee Richards duly elected as President of the Board for the coming year.

On being called upon for a speech President Richards said: "I hope you will excuse me from making a speech. It is out of my line. I will relate a little story which may be apropos at this time. It was said of Emperor Augustus just before his death that he was asked if had acted his part well. He replied, 'Let me pass off the stage with your applause.' Second terms are dangerous. Everything has passed off pleasantly during the past year and I thank you kindly for your many courtesies. No little part has been due that all have performed their parts to the best of their ability. As soon as the report of all the officers are published you will commend their course. We will now proceed with the business of the evening."

A communication was read from Mr. J. J. Dunn, enclosing another from Attorney Robinson in relation to the macadamizing of Cedar street. It was referred to the Town Attorney for his opinion and the matter was laid over until the next meeting of the Board there being no particular reason for acting immediately as the street would not be graded within thirty days.

A communication was received from James W. Flynn in relation to a difficulty between himself and a neighbor about a tree in an adjoining garden growing over his lot so as to become a nuisance.

Attorney Hayne decided that the Trustees had no jurisdiction over the matter and the Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Flynn to that effect.

The South Berkeley Improvement Club sent in a petition to have a trench filled up north of Emerson street, on account of its being dangerous to persons going to and from the railroad station. The matter was referred to the Town Engineer, to make a report upon it at the next meeting of the Board.

A communication from J. D. Reinking, relative to Richard's addition, asking that the sidewalk on the south side of Center street be put in order. It was referred to the Superintendent of streets and Town Engineer, to report at the next meeting.

President Richards called the attention of the members to having some regulations made for the exit in public halls and buildings, also the placing of chairs in the aisles in public meetings. The Fire and Water Committee with the Town Attorney were requested to report at the next meeting of the Board some form of a resolution that would cover the ground so that it could be regularly passed upon.

The President asked whether there should not be an ordinance for regulating the speed of horses with vehicles attached, as other towns have. On motion of Trustee Martin it was referred to the Street Committee and the Town Attorney for them to draw up an ordinance to that effect.

The President then made a suggestion by asking the questions "Has the time arrived to establish fire limits? Would it not be for the benefit of the town?"

Trustee Durrell remarked that it was perhaps unfortunate that ordinances which would apply to the East End of the town would not apply to West End at all.

The Board set the time for hearing the Woolsey street opening business at 9 o'clock in the evening of the next regular meeting of the Board.

A petition for a six-foot cement sidewalk on Fulton street, between Dwight way and Parker street, was referred to the Street Committee.

A communication was received from W. J. Schmidt asking that Cedar street be closed for thirty days to enable him to complete his contract on the time in which he had agreed to do the work.

On motion of Trustee Martin the communication was placed on file, and the Street Superintendent's attention was called to it.

President Richards stated that the contract for the official printing would expire on the 21st of June, and it was necessary to instruct the Clerk to advertise for the official printing for the coming year.

Trustee Martin asked if the Board was satisfied with the bids as given last year, referring to the bid of so much for the first insertion, so much for the second, and so on. It is the proper way of advertising, as the longer time matter is printed the cheaper it comes for insertion. He moved that the Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids in the same form as last year, and the motion was adopted.

President Richards said, in relation to the job printing that he thought the best way would be to divide the work, first giving one, say $25 worth of work, and then the second the same value, and so on.

An ordinance was passed establishing sewer grades on Grove street from Prince southerly; also on Derby street between Calais and Grove.

A protest was presented against the petition of Mr. Dixon for a sewer on Harmon street.

A request to have the electric light now at the head of Bancroft Way remain in its present petition was referred to the Electric Committee.

A resolution for the macadamizing of Shattuck Avenue from Blake street to Derby street was passed. A resolution ordering sewer work on Prince street was passed. A Resolution of Intention for macadamizing Prince street with Class C. rock was adopted.

Clerk Hanscom stated that there are some small warrants which have been outstanding for several years and they made more or less trouble in making up the accounts. On motion it was ordered that a warrant be drawn covering the amount and that it be placed to the credit of the General Fund.

The President said he would like suggestions from the members as to the committees to be appointed. He wanted the members satisfied. Trustee Martin suggested that the Committees stand as they are.

On motion of Trustee Durrell Attorney Hayne was instructed to draw up an ordinance in relation to the giving of bonds by special officers.

A resolution establishing the grade in Harmon street was adopted.

A resolution rescinding all actions taken towards the opening of Haste street was adopted, Trustee Jones and Richards voting against it.

Town Attorney Hayne reported in relation to the Chinese laundry on Parker street that the Board really had nothing to act upon in this case.

Trustee Martin called attention to the close resemblance of samples of Class A and Class C rock as submitted by the Oakland Paving Co.

At 12 o'clock the Board adjourned.

Schmidt vs. Stutt.

The trial of Mr. Stutt is going on today in Justice James Court. From the appearance about the Town Hall one would think it was a murder case. With Will Schmidt's forces on one side and Stutt's men on the other there are many people in attendance. For the prosecution Carl Wood, Deputy District Attorney, Judge Nusbaumer and T. F. Graber appear as Counsel. The defense will be attended to by Ben Morgan. Out of a Venire of 20 men 11 have been selected to act as a jury. This is one of the many trials likely to occur through the differences of the two contractors. It is quite likely that the trial will be a heated one both on account of the weather and the heated words of the contestants.

Was a Natural Death.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon over the body of Mrs. Victoria S. Darche, who died very suddenly Saturday evening. The jury found death was caused by pleuro-pneumonia. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

PASSING NOTICES

Passing Notices.

That in anticipation of the ordinance passed last night by the Trustees many property owners have already begun work on cleaning out the gutter and clearing the sidewalks of grass and weeds.

The weather is pretty warm here just now but California is particularly in clover when compared to the weather they are having in the western portion of the Eastern States where cyclones are the order of the day.

This season of the year affords people living in the metropolis a fine opportunity for outdoor exercise among the Berkeley hills. There are plenty of little shady nooks by the running brooks where one can enjoy the cool breezes and fresh air wafted in from the ocean laden with sufficient salt to provoke an amazing appetite. On Sundays can be seen party after party wending their way over the sloping hills and gathering flowers as they pass along.

The scribe often wonders why some man who thoroughly understands the business, does not erect a summer resort in the suburbs of the town where city people can take a quiet rest and meet sociable people. Probably someone will wake up to a money-making enterprise of this kind and then the number of visitors will increase.

The Oakland Theatre.

Tonight the Gracie Plaisted Co. opens at the above mentioned house in the ever popular musical comedy "Tina." Miss Plaisted, who began her starring tour last January, has met with unprecedented success, and the verdict of the people where she has appeared has been unanimous in her favor. This charming soubrette has long been a favorite in San Francisco where she appeared at the Tivoli, and is also well and favorably known all over the Coast.

"Tina" is one of Miss Plaisted's favorite roles, and the whole company appears to advantage in the charming, comedy. The musical part of the program is a strong feature, and the best and latest songs of the day will be heard, including a grand musical medley. Prices during the Plaisted engagement will remain the same.

Notice to Teamsters.

All persons using wagons in Berkeley who are required to have a license, and who will not have procured the same before the 1st day of June, 1896, will, after said date, be arrested.

Now They Come.

Votes are coming in fast for the most popular teacher, and the next four or five days will make quite a difference. Mrs. Wilkes comes to the front this afternoon, with a majority of 33 votes. Butchertown will probably come to the front to-morrow, and then the results may be surprising. However the story will be best told when the battle is over. Oftentimes a battle is won just before the conflict is ended by the pulling to all appearance of a forlorn hope. The following table shows that Mrs. Wilkes has 64,337 and Miss Hamlin 64,304, showing the former 33 votes ahead.

The West Berkeley Republican Club sent word to the society inviting its members to speak at a big campaign rally to be held in a short time. The invitation was accepted, and for the first time the Berkeley suffragists will speak at a bonfire meeting.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Of the M. E. Church South to Meet in Oakland

City Of Oaks Chosen.

This city has won in the contest with Los Angeles for the fifth annual State conference of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church South. Oakland was chosen as the place of meeting for next year over the southern city by one vote. The time for the conference has not yet been fixed. It will bring together 400 delegates at least, representing ninety chapters in this State, with a membership of 3,500.

The State conference was organized Oakland four years ago, and has increased very rapidly in membership. It is one of the representative church organizations of the State and has an important field of work in connection with the main body of the Methodist Church South. Its members are drawn from the younger element, and among them are many who are prominent in the secular walks of of life.

Next year's conference will be marked by the attendance of a number of the international conference officers, prominent among whom is S. W. Steele, General Secretary, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn.

The sessions will continue for five days. W. H. Waste of Berkeley was the first State President of the league. He held the office for three terms. The present head is W. G. Poage, a well known attorney of Ukiah.

The work of the league is largely on the lines of the Christian Endeavorers, and aims especially to keep alive the interest among young people in church affairs. There are about 75,000 members in the Methodist Church South organization of the United States.

The State conference will be held at Asbury Methodist Church, where it was organized.

BLOWN TO DEATH.

Over One Hundred People Killed

IN ONE COUNTY, WHILE AS MANY MORE

In Several Other Counties In Michigan—Buildings Blown In Opposite Directions.

Death and Ruin.

Oxford, Mich., May 26.—From the reports that continue to come in from adjacent points the full force of the fierce wind that swept this part of Oakland County is beginning to be appreciated.

Everywhere is devastation.

Villages that were yesterday the homes of contented citizens are today desolate.

Maimed and bruised fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters mourn for those who met death in the twisting, grinding, resistless wind.

The death roll in this vicinity may run to the hundred mark.

At Oakwood, a hamlet fifty miles north of Oxford, having a population of about 200, not a house is left standing.

The path of the storm was between a half and three fourths of a mile wide. It extended nearly on a straight course eastward over thirty miles.

A remarkable circumstance is that buildings in close proximity were blown in opposite directions, some being swept northward and others southward.

Same as American.

A Christianized Chinaman by the name of George Fong, who resides on Derby street near McGee avenue, lost a child by death aged seven days, yesterday. The father and mother, Neen Fong, have lived in Berkeley about two years. Since he has become Christianized the father cut off his queue and sports a mustache, wears American clothes and tries to live the same as Americans do. For a living he peddles vegetables and is well known about town.

On the death of the child he summoned the Coroner, who took charge of the body. A coffin has been provided and the dead infant will be buried in the Mountain View Cemetery.

It is not often that one sees a Chinaman, who has thrown off all the habitiments of his native country and assumes those of his adoption. Fong seems determined to become as thoroughly Americanized as possible and wants to live in every way similar to the native of the United States, as he possibly can. He speaks the English quite fluently and is a very good business manager. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

A suit has been brought by W. H. Crozer against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, for $1000 damages. The plaintiff claims that on April 8th, he purchased a ticket at the pier for Berkeley. The ticket was taken at Shellmound Park, the conductor would not take the passenger's word and put him off the train. Now Crozer wants $1000 to soothe his wounded feelings.

Capt. Bennett of Lorin, returned home yesterday after a two months visit in the East, where he visited all of the large cities and took in a full view of all that was going on.

Married, April 30th, in Oakland Effie Meredith to William Graves.

The local train was delayed a short time last evening about 9 o'clock. As it was coming down the grade from Berryman Station, the brake rod in the baggage car broke and it took a few minutes to repair it.

Street Superintendent Chick is making repairs on Adeline street by filling up the chock holes and other work to make it passable. He pays for it out of his own pocket.

The Rider motor which was to have been placed on a car of the Claremont and Ferry railroad on the 30th of this month, will not be ready. The parties have got an extension of fifteen days to complete the work.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last evening President Richards called the attention of the members to an evil existing in Berkeley that should be looked after and remedied at the earliest possible opportunity.

The matter complained of is proper exits from public buildings of whatever nature. It is a matter of fact that thousands of lives have been sacrificed from this very cause, perhaps to a greater extent in the United States than in any other country. France, England and Germany have had cause to regret negligence in attending to the means of allowing people to get out quickly from a crowded hall, when a panic ensued from various causes.

Of late years much attention has been paid to these exits, and ordinances are now in effect in all large cities of this country, to prevent such alarming accidents as have heretofore occurred.

In small towns there has seemingly not been the need of such precautions as no such crowds attend meeting generally as they do in large cities. However there are times when even in country places the halls in general use are too small for the accommodations of the public. In such buildings the entrance and exit are at the same door which is seldom much larger than the ordinary size. The consequence is the same liability to accidents and when they do occur are of a frightful nature.

The suggestion struck the members very forcibly and the matter was referred to the proper committee with the Town Attorney added to it to prepare an ordinance governing the case. They will report at the next meeting of the Board when some action will be taken.

Another suggestion made by President Richards, was as to whether the time had arrived when the town of Berkeley, should, by ordinance regulate the fire limits. Some portions of the town have been built up faster than others, and particularly at East Berkeley, the houses were built near together over quite a large area. Many of these structures are of the kind to take fire and burn very quickly, thereby being the means of danger to the buildings adjoining.

While we have some conveniences for putting out fires, and so far they have been extinguished before going over any great extent of territory, the time may come when close proximity of inflammable material to raging flames may be the means of causing great losses not only of property, but lives by the fiery element.

It is quite probable that but few of our people have ever given this matter a thought, and the bringing of the matter up before the Board will set property owners to thinking the matter of, and no doubt they will quickly arrive to the conclusion that something should be done very soon for self preservation.

In California a matter of this kind needs earlier attention than in other parts of the United States from the fact that for several months during the year we are practically without any rain fall and woodwork particularly becomes very dry and quicker to ignite than where the rainy weather keeps it somewhat damp the major part of the time and less liable to the danger of quick ignition.

Not only do the structures get very dry but much inflammable vegetable matter surround them in all directions which is liable to beset on fire by various causes, many of them very slight and thus cause disastrous conflagrations. The precaution suggested is a timely one and should be well considered by our citizens.

There was still another suggestion put forth by President Richards, which cannot help receive the hearty commendation of not only every person who travels over our public thoroughfares, but those who have any kindred or friends that do so. This idea is that fast driving on the public streets should be stopped. It would have been well to have added bicycles to the list.

Scarcely a day passes but what we are called to notice accidents and narrow escapes caused by fast driving of horses, and furious riding on bicycles.

No longer ago than the latter part of last week a lady living in East Berkeley barely escaped with her life, through the carelessness of the driver of one of the delivery wagons that go daily through the town. As it was, she was struck on the shoulder and hip, and quite severely hurt by the aforesaid driver.

She was so confused at the time that she did not recognize the young man fully enough to identify him if she saw him again. He drove away as fast as he could, well knowing that he had done some injury, and for what he knew a secious one.

This is only one of the many experiences of people in Berkeley. Many others of the same kind could be given but this is enough for an illustration and the reason why a stop should be put to it.

Trustee Durrell said that what would apply to the Eastern portion of the town might not apply with equal force to the Western portion, on account of the difference and closeness in the population and travel.

There is no doubt but what it would be very hard to form a general ordinance that would suit all conditions but something could be arrived at by which a major portion of the town would be benefitted. The whole thing was referred to a committee with the Town Attorney to get an ordinance in shape for presentation to the members of the Board at the next meeting when it will be further discussed.

IF WE HAD THE TIME.

If I had time to find a place
And sit me down full face to face
With my better self, that stands no show
In my daily life in Rushes so,
It might be then I would see my soul
Was stumbling still toward the shining goal.
Tangled in marvel by the thought sublime,
If I had the time.

If I had the time to set my heart
Beside and feel take in my life a part,
To look about and to stretch a hand
To a comrade quarter-reeling without land—
Ah, God! If I might but just sit still
And hear the note of the whippoorwill,
I think that my wish with God's would rhyme
If I had the time.

If I had the time to learn from you
How much of comfort by word could do—
And I told you then of my sudden will
To Rise up feet when I did you ill;
If the tears welled of the heart's woe
Could force their way and let you know—
Brother, the sounds of us all would chime
If we had the time.

—Richard E. Burton.

A CONFESSION.

In the twilight shadows of an evening in September a woman seated herself in an open window to peruse the day's mail.

The room was the tidy, correct chamber of a spinster.

Not a feature of the place or its belongings hinted at the thought of a gay mind here.

All the literature, photogravure and even the papering protested against the age of frivolity.

The small writing table, never littered by the moods of young scribes, was correct as usual, and with a clean patterned letter opener Eunice Raven cut the leaves of a New York pasted letter.

People said—that is, they had so ventured when in the confidential presence of their dearest friends—that Eunice Raven once had an admirer.

No one knew positively that he actually reached the importance of a "beau," and as Eunice declined to claim any such article, surely no one could know either in the matter than the woman herself.

Eunice Raven was a good and nice Irish woman in her small world, and ran the sands of life to even measure with out a suspicion of revolt, but there were times when she did revolt, and her neighbors only took her disfavor to her little room over the best parlor, where her Thomas a Kempis and other spiritual condiments were pencil-marked anew.

If any one in Paleville had chanced to see Eunice Raven open that New York pasted letter there would have remained no doubt for them that she once had an admirer.

The face was a strong, manly countenance, with much frank kindness in the smiling eyes and a chin showing well-tempered affection.

The picture brought a warm, girlish glow to the spinster's face, a shade the light of a sweeping memory, dim at first and quickly deepening, flamed from heart to face.

The letter was a long one, closely written, and apparently with effort, erased and recrossed womanwise.

Within was a second letter unopened, with the date of 19 years resting on its shameless surface.

Over the first, leaning toward the light and bared for something more vaguely guarded than discovered, Eunice read with puzzled eyes.

Over the second she paused, and the dim light of that rekindled memory again lifted and glanced upon her.

Then aloud she read the date.

"If it had come to me then, there would have been no happier day in my life," she said.

"Nineteen years from his hand to mine."

She laid the letter down and dropped back in the chair.

Her position, reflected by the faithful mirror, was an awkward, slouching one.

It was just such she had maintained in her teaching last session that only a woman with no backbone would assume, and she at once sat erect in the instant correction of such laxity.

"Nineteen years too late."

And 19 years the wrong side of matrimony, when one is alone in the world, is little more than single misery.

Her eyes, blinded with hot, angry tears at the cruel, disappointing bitterness of it.

Then she read again the fine French sheets of milk white paper upon which the guilty confession of the writer looked blacker than at first.

As she read she tried to picture very correctly and justly the mind of the writer. She tried to be impartial. She tried to judge with the essence of judgment severity.

She succeeded in a large full, teeming measure of mercy.

A few tears, and she, the accuser, became the defender. It is often a woman's way.

The writer of the letter—now ill, undoubtedly dying—was making confession for relief of soul.

Sister of the man Eunice Raven loved, and who had loyal Eunice, she wrote how bitterly she had hated the very name of an unknown sister.

"With no father or mother, and an only brother, who made her entire world, she had thought anything better than to lose his love and care, and when Eunice had come into his life and he had announced his intention of asking to become nearer to him, this was the thing she had done:

"I felt," she wrote, "that I would beg, lie or steal before you should come home here, and when brother went to his room to write you to become his wife I knew that letter and I knew my brother.

"And the devil knew me in the hour of my wicked weakness. The letter I intercepted and hid.

"I knew his spirit of sensitive pride so well that when the tempter whispered, 'He will never write but once,' I knew it well.

"I knew if he never had an answer from you that there would be no other word from him to you.

"I have lived with the torture of that stolen letter, which your heart has wrung from mine a thousand times in our silent spirits' war, with you ever conquering. * * * I am dying, but the home and the brother are here.

"Come in unto him and dwell with him.

"Preside at my chair, sit at my plate, drink from my cup, and may God grant you a double blessing and me a double mercy. Amen."

And so Eunice wept. Not for herself; her sufferings had been years in darkness, and here was light. And through such she looked into the soul of that

And then she prayed. She was beyond the gear Thomas-a-Kempis and Tileston gems of her agony hours.

She went to God with that other woman.

And when she arose from her knees, instead of opening that letter she dried her eyes and smoothed her hair for the fog public.

When a gentle little old lady put her head with a jerk in at the door and said, "Tea is ready, Miss Eunice," she followed her without a word and drank tea with her same daily precision. And when, tea being over, she and the gentle little old lady sat out on the quiet piazza together, with only the song of sleepy insects and the great beauty of a mountain night, she said:

"Miss Annie, I have a story to tell you."

And the gentle little old lady heard with an amused interest Eunice Raven's romance.

"Now, Miss Annie, what ought I to do?" "Pray for me tonight and tell me when you call me in the morning," finished Eunice.

"Tell you what you ought to do? Why, Miss Eunice marry him! Just to think, you poor dear, as much as I have liked your quiet way as a boarder, and that bad, too, as I dreaded taking you. You have never given the trouble of a kitten, though. I should miss you more than a half orphan asylum."

"Remember, Miss Annie, it is 19 years, and I have not read his letter yet," returned Eunice.

"Not read the letter yet!" exclaimed the gentle little old lady. "Well, you do beat all. But one beau, and never had but one letter, being 19 years coming, and you not read it yet. Land o' love, Miss Eunice, I'm amazed. I should go right up stairs and read that there letter this very minute."

Eunice Raven went slowly to her little room, but as soon as she entered the very dots in the curtains began to dance before her, and the white chair covers and bedspread all seemed shrouds that gave her shivers.

Going to her trunk, she unpacked a picture of herself in youth. She held it critically before the candle glare. It mirrored a fresh, bright, happy face.

She compared it with her poor, worn one. The significance of the act was the last and saddest truth of her wretched misery. "Sorrow beautifies only the heart, not the face of a woman."

"Ah!" exclaimed Eunice, holding the image of her girlhood at arm's length. That night there was disorder in the chamber of Eunice Raven, and the tumult of her soul was great, but as the gray dawn crept gently about her the woman arose from her knees and, bearing herself erect and firmly poised, stood beside the writing table at her eastern window.

Beneath her lay the unopened letter that had awaited her hand these 19 years. She smiled at some grim thought in abstract and looked out over the sun tinted mountains.

In the shadow of their quiet, mighty grandeur there lay strength. With cold, narrow lips she pressed the letter—once, twice—and then, with steady, unerring pen, she wrote words of finality.

"Only a heart, a face and a hand."

She laid it and locked it away in the very bottom of her trunk. And when she had done that she simply went on with the life of Eunice Raven.—"Larks."

Fashion In Calling Cards.

The Roman or block letter is becoming more popular as the style of engraving for visiting card plates, while the fashionably thin card of two sheet quality is eminently proper. Cards for both men and women are considerably smaller, and the script engraving is finer. In consequence, following more closely the English style than the Parisian, which is large and with flourishes. The block or Roman letter plate is very English, and with those affecting London styles it finds great favor. The price more than doubles that of script engraving. Ladies use the block style now on their cards for teas and receptions, as it admits of the necessary engraving of days within a smaller space than the script and enables a smaller card being used.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Color of Flames.

You have often noticed the many tinted bars and bands that rise in the shape of "forked tongues of flame" from wood burning in the grate. It is ten to one, however, that you never have thought to figure on the cause of the variegated hues presented by flames. To bring the matter quickly to the point, we will say that the many colors are the result of combustion among the different elements of the wood. The light blue is from the hydrogen and the white from the carbon, the violet is from the manganese, the red from the magnesia and the yellow from the soda, which are constituent parts of the wood. —St. Louis Republic.

Train Noises.

A method of preventing the noise made by trains when passing over iron bridges has been devised by a German engineer named Boedecker, locality not stated. He puts a decking of 1¼ inch planks between the cross girders, resting on three inch timbers laid on the bottom flanges, while on the planks a double layer of felt is placed, first to the thickness of the cross girders, and to the connections with the girder an timber cover joint is put on felt, and two hooked bolts connect the whole firmly to the bottom flange. Four inches of slag gravel cover the decking, which is inclined toward the center of the bridge for drainage purposes, and a layer of felt is laid between the planks and the timbers upon which they rest, and the ironwork in contact with decking and ballast is asphalted. The decking weighs 600 pounds per yard for a bridge 14 feet wide and costs 23 cents a square foot.

Fleshmaking Food.

Cream gruel, according to an eminent English authority, is the ideal nourishment for thin folk. A teacupful taken at night, immediately before retiring is said to give marvelous results. To be at its best it must be perfectly made, then thinned with sweet cream. Taken in that condition and warm it is agreeable as well as fattening, and produces just that amount of satisfied hunger essential to ideal rest. THEIR WORK IS DONE.

The Republican State Convention has met and adjourned, and its action is now before the people, and, by the majority, the business transacted at Sacramento will be acceptable. The endorsement of Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, for President, is more than satisfactory to the people of the State of California, and the platform which was adopted is one that any Republican can endorse with pleasure.

We think that every man, woman and child in the State should carefully, fully read this platform. Consequently we publish it below in its entirety.

The Republican party of the State of California, in convention assembled at Sacramento, on the 5th day of May 1896, hereby adopts the following platform:

Resolved, That this convention favors the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of California, whereby it is sought to extend the elective franchise to all citizens of the United States, both men and women.

That we indorse the course of Hon. George C. Perkins in the United States Senate in behalf of the people of the State of California and their varied interests.

We indorse the work of the National League and the efforts of the young men of our party to make it a potent factor in prosecuting a vigorous and successful campaign in this State.

We favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and the making of silver as well as gold a legal tender in payment of all debts, both public and private.

Realizing that good roads are a necessary element in advancing the prosperity of any community, and recognizing the practically universal demand for the same, not only in our State but throughout the United States, the Republican party of California pledges itself to the enactment of legislation looking toward improved and scientifically constructed highways on the most economical basis.

We demand such National legislation on the subject of foreign immigration as will effectually keep out of the country all contract laborers, criminals, paupers, diseased persons and the classes whose presence and teachings are calculated to disturb social peace and order, or are inimical to the best interests of this country, and such changes in the naturalization laws and enforcement as will prevent unfit foreign born persons from becoming citizens of this republic.

Our prisons and asylums contain many people not citizens of the United States. We believe that every nation should care and provide for its own demented and criminal class, and that all future treaties and conventions with other nations should provide for such a reciprocal deportation of such classes as would, in time, make each nation care and provide for its own, and at its own expense of deportation.

We hartily recognize the right to establish schools through private enterprise, but we demand that but non-sectarian, free, public schools shall receive public aid.

We heartily indorse the proposition that the farmer of the nation, by whose labor the staple agricultural products of the country are brought to market, should receive a just measure of protection for himself, his labor and his products; inasmuch as the price of these products is regulated by the amount paid for them in the world's market, debtors lose the cost of transportation from the place of production to such centers, and as owing to the great development of staple agricultural products in many of the cheapest labor countries of the world the prices realized by our farmers have of late been unremunerative, it is our duty to endeavor to change this state of affairs, hence we approve of the plan that the Government of the United States should reduce the cost of transporting these staple agricultural products from American seaports to foreign seaports, to the end that the prices of these products should be advanced; and for that purpose, inasmuch as an export can be protected in no other manner, we pronounce ourself in favor of the use of a limited portion of the receipts of the United States customs for such purposes, and pledge our most earnest efforts to have this measure engrafted upon the laws of the land, to the end that the American protective system shall benefit all classes of the people, aid the farmer against the oppressive competition of the cheap-labor countries of the world, and by so doing assist in maintaining that steady demand for labor in manufacturing centers so essential to the welfare of our country.

The Republican party of California is pledged to such legislation as will thoroughly protect the dairy interests and the public from imposition in the sale of dairy products.

The mines of California, with their annual output of many millions of dollars, have been our financial bulwark in times of adversity; they maintained the national credit during the dark days of the rebellion and they form the basis upon which the grandest of commonwealths, California, has been reared. The mining industry of our State should receive such aid and protection as will insure its permanency and prosperity, and for that purpose we favor such aid and protection as will relieve the miner from unnecessary burdens, enable him to obtain and develop his mining property, and will promote and encourage the business of all kinds of mining, including that known as "hydraulic mining," whenever and wherever the same can be carried on without injury to the other interests in the State.

We believe a revision of the tariff laws up on the basis of the American protective system to be the foremost of National legislation, and have full confidence in the National Convention soon to assemble to deal more fully with this question. We condemn the policy of the Democratic party for the last four years, resulting, as it has, in destroying every barrier to American protection, and charge that policy with the responsibility of degrading labor and impoverishing every interest dear to the American people. We believe that we should live under the banner calculated to give us the most protection in weakness and in strength, which exalts life and promotes human happiness, and that such system rests upon the basis of American protective tariff as advocated by James G. Blaine and William McKinley.

We commend the course of our Representatives in Congress in opposing the proposed funding schemes of the Pacific railroad companies, and it is our opinion that those companies should be compelled to settle their indebtedness in some reasonable or business like way, or that the Government shall foreclose its liens upon and take possession of the properties.

Resolved, That the Republicans of California, while recognizing the earnest worth and fitness of each of the distinguished statesmen of their party whose names have been mentioned as aspirants for the Presidential nomination at St. Louis, and while pledging in advance the electoral vote of the Golden State to the Republican nominee whoever he may be, hereby declare that the emphatic sentiment of California is in favor of the nomination of that wise and able statesman; that pure and unsullied patriot; that true and loyal American; that peerless champion of protection, William McKinley of Ohio, and the delegates from this State are hereby directed and instructed to work and vote for the success of said William McKinley as long as there is a reasonable prospect of his nomination.
